

Warriors Rate Offense As Tops

Wakefield came home with more than a victory last Saturday in their tilt with Herndon, won by the Warriors 18-12, their fourth win in six outings. "I'm very pleased with the offensive line," commented line coach Walt Schulte. "They seem to be coming into their own now, and have passed the play of the defensive line."

Somewhat slow in the earlier games, the offensive line worked well, but lacked the "punch" in sparking a sustained drive. The Herndon game brought out a lot of flaws, and showed marked improvement in the forwards. Dick Stamp at tackle and Jim Kennedy and Joe Patalive at the guards gave an outstanding performance, along with center Gary Parker.

On defense, coach Schulte was a little dismayed at the teams tackling, but mentioned Dave Morhardt and Dave French, the left and right line backers respectively, as doing a fine job.

Currently the Warriors are faced with trouble on the ends, as first string offensive end Frank Stevens may be out for the remainder of the season with a kidney injury. Al Lederle and Ed Hall both are ailing, Al suffering from a minor leg ailment and Ed with a back injury. Only Mert McGill remains on the first string in good shape, and he was forced into both offensive and defensive work against Herndon. Reserve ends Jed Miller and Wayne Smith also showed well, and may be forced to take over starting roles if hurried treatment failed to improve the Wakefield starters.

Friday's engagement with the George Washington JV has been moved up to 2:45 p.m. instead of the earlier announced 3:30 time, to allow the students time to catch their buses homeward. The Junior Presidents promise to be one of the Warriors roughest opponents, with two more top flight squads appearing on the schedule in Mount Vernon and the Washington-Lee JV.
